Litigation and Task Force Membership

- 2022, In People v. Morphew, Iris and her team, forced the prosecution to dismiss the First-Degree Murder and other charges against Mr. Morphew nine days before the five-week jury trial was set to commence. Iris uncovered egregious prosecutorial misconduct, including that the prosecution concealed exculpatory DNA evidence from the judge and defense. This extremely dedicated fight for Mr. Morphew's life and innocence caused the judge to strike more than 10 of the prosecution's experts from testifying at trial, and ultimately the prosecution dismissed Mr. Morphew's case.
- 2020, In People v. Micah Kimball, while at Eytan Nielsen, Iris obtained a not guilty verdict on Murder in the 1st Degree and False Imprisonment charges after a two-week jury trial in Denver, Colorado. Mr. Kimball is innocent and the jury confirmed he was falsely accused and charged with these crimes. Mr. Kimball served 67 days in jail before Iris and Dru convinced the judge to release him. In the 10 months leading up to trial, Iris and Dru found that the Denver prosecutors withheld the expert opinions of both the Deputy Director of the Crime Lab and the Lead Homicide Detective. They had determined that Mr. Kimball's fiancé's single gunshot wound was self-inflicted. The Judge sanctioned the prosecutors for their misconduct.
- 2019, Served as co-lead counsel in the Legal Center v. Bicha, et al. since 2011 and obtained a comprehensive Consent Decree in 2019 with the State of Colorado overhauling the competency system. Case involved a federal lawsuit over provision of competency evaluations to pre-trial detainees and was extensively litigated over eleven years. Received an Award of Special Recognition in 2013 and Team of the Year Award in 2019 from the Colorado Lawyers Committee in recognition of the work in this matter. Legal Center v. Bicha, et al., No. 11-CV2285-BNB (D. Colo. 2011).
- 2018, In 2014, Boulder Police Department Officers shot Cole Stewart twice while he was in his home after running from a $4.85 cab fare. Mr. Stewart was wrongly charged with 5 counts of menacing Boulder Police Officers. Mr. Stewart was convicted at trial, but in 2018, the Court of Appeals dismissed the case and convictions due to the judge's and prosecutor's errors, and the Boulder DA's Office refiled the charges. In late 2018, Iris was brought in to re-try the case. Iris achieved the second dismissal and exoneration of Mr. Stewart after conducting the only forensic crime scene investigation conducted in the case. Mr. Stewart then filed a civil rights action against the Boulder Police Department, and in 2022 the City of Boulder settled with Mr. Stewart for 1.3 Million Dollars.

- 2017, In People v. John San Agustin, after a year and a half of intense litigation, and a month prior to trial, Iris achieved the dismissal of Mr. San Agustin's Kidnapping and False imprisonment charges. Mr. San Agustin, the former lead El Paso County Sheriff's Investigator, was wrongly indicted as a result of not cooperating with the prosecution to assist in the indictment of former Sheriff Maketa.
- 2016, In People v. Thomas Fallis, while with Eytan Nielsen, Iris obtained a righteous not guilty verdict on the 2nd Degree Murder charge after a three-week jury trial in Greeley, Colorado. Mr. Fallis is innocent, and the jury resoundingly confirmed he was falsely accused, indicted, and charged with this crime. The case was fueled by the media and family members who caused the case to be re-opened in 2014 after the death was ruled a suicide in 2012 by five law enforcement agencies whom investigated the case.
- 2015-2016, Lead counsel in Center for Legal Advocacy v. Bicha, et al, in the Motion to Re-Open Settlement Agreement. Resolved motion without hearing by revisions to the settlement agreement to include an independent consultant to be paid by the Colorado Department of Human Services to ensure compliance with the Agreement. Center for Legal Advocacy v. Bicha, et al, No. 11-CV-2285- NYW.
- 2015, Co-lead counsel in the Castorena-Mares v. Judge Marcucci and the Denver County Court to cure the illegal bond setting practices in Denver County Court. The County Court judges were sued resulting from setting bond on misdemeanor cases in chambers without a hearing or argument by defense counsel in violation of Colorado Law.
- 2014, Lead counsel pursuing enforcement of the Victim Rights Act for the Autobee family. This unique representation centered on the Autobee family's position against the prosecution's pursuit of the death penalty of their son's killer, Edward Montour. The family requested that the prosecution allow Montour to receive a sentence without the possibility of parole and filed a motion to be permitted to testify as to the request for a life sentence. People v. Montour, Douglas County District Court, No. 02-CR-782.

- 2012, In People v. Tyler Sanchez, Iris successfully convinced the prosecution to dismiss Mr. Sanchez' case after three years of protracted and complex litigation. Mr. Sanchez is a developmentally disabled young man, who was wrongly accused of committing a serious crime, and who falsely confessed to the crime, after being interrogated by multiple police officers over a two-day period in which he was in custody and not permitted to contact his parents. People v. Sanchez, Douglas County District Court, No. 09-CR-445.
- 2008, Iris Eytan was named to the group of Colorado state officials tasked with researching and rewriting Colorado's Competency Statute, HB 08-1392, which directs how and when mental incompetency is raised and evaluated. The bill became law in 2008. The group remains active, pursuing additional changes to the statute.
- 2007, In People v. Eugene Zuniga, the court determined that Colorado failed to provide timely court-ordered competency hearings and evaluations for 81 county-jail inmates whose competency to stand trial was in question. As a special prosecutor for the case, Iris forced the State to properly fund the programs and facilities needed for those inmates to get proper care. Following this decision, she was appointed as special counsel to the court – reporting on the treatment of the mentally ill in the criminal justice system. People v. Zuniga, Denver County District Court, No. 06-CR-999.
- 2004, With seven other attorneys, Iris created a task force on behalf of the Colorado Lawyers Committee to defend individuals at the State Hospital in Pueblo who pled Not Guilty by Reason of Insanity. For this role, she and her colleagues were awarded the Colorado Lawyers Committee "Community Contribution Award."
